Submit the application via the e-system and pay the fees online. Receiving the certificate by delivery to the person concerned or a representative or by visit a public health center in the same emirate for verification and matching of original documents.
- When applying through the Mabrouk Ma Yak Package: Submit application in the e-system. Pay the certificate issuance fee and the application will be sent to the Federal Authority for Identity and Citizenship.
- When applying through public health center or hospital: Submit the application through the e-system and pay the fee. Once the documents and original copies are verified, the birth certificate will be issued. Receipt of the certificate by the person concerned or a representative.

Required Documents

- Electronic notification of birth from the hospital at which the child was delivered.
- Registration by the application through e-services on the website, at a public health center, or the hospital.
- Citizens: Copy and original of the parents' marriage certificate for the first national child (where marriage took place outside the UAE, marriage certificate must be attested by the UAE embassy abroad and the UAE Ministry of Foreign Affairs). Copies and originals of father's and mother's passports and IDs. Copy and original of the family book (if the mother is of another nationality, her passport with the residency page is required). In case of birth abroad, in addition to the above, the following documents are required:
- Expatriate residents: Original marriage certificate with copies and originals of father's and mother's passports or original Emirates IDs.
- For out-of-hospital births, in addition to the above documents, the following are required: A letter from the court stating that delivery took place at home, including the place and date of birth and parents' names.
- In cases where the child is born inside the UAE with the father not resident in the country, the following documents are required: Certified marriage contract. Declaration from the wife confirming continuity of the marriage. Certified copy of the husband's passport, or a letter from the embassy stating the father's nationality, or a declaration from the husband attested by his country's embassy establishing his parental relationship with the child. If the above documents are not available, the matter will be referred to the Newborn Committee.

Conditions & Requirements

1. Submit the original documents and copies thereof.
2. If the father is not available, an official power of attorney is required from the father or the father's signature on the birth certificate application.
3. Visit a Public Health Center with the documents required by the emirate in which the child was born. UAE nationals can receive the birth certificate through a Mabrouk Ma Yak package, in which the birth certificate will be sent to the Federal Authority for Identity and Citizenship on behalf of the client.

4. Birth certificates attested by Department of Health Abu Dhabi or Dubai Health Authority or Emirates Health Services are equivalent to those of the Ministry of Health and Prevention.
5. The birth certificate must be certified by the UAE Ministry of Foreign Affairs and the embassy of the country in which the birth certificate will be used.
6. In the case of a birth inside the UAE while the father is outside the country, the following additional documents must be submitted: Attested marriage certificate. Declaration from the wife stating the continuity of the marriage. Attested copy of the husband's passport or a letter from the embassy indicating the nationality of the father or a statement from the husband confirming the paternity of the child, attested by his country's embassy and the UAE Ministry of Foreign Affairs.
7. Should the period between the date of birth and the date of marriage be fewer than 6 months, a proof of paternity from the Court is required in addition to the standard documents.
8. When registering and issuing birth certificates in the case of stateless parents, 'non-citizen' should be entered in the nationality field, in accordance with the applicable rules and procedures of the Federal Authority for Identity and Citizenship.
